Knowledge Kiosk Search Help

Overview

The Knowledge Kiosk supports two types of search requests: Natural Language searching and Boolean searching. A Natural Language search utilizes common "everyday" language like the kind that might be found in letters and other documents submitted for inclusion in the Kiosk. To run a Natural Language search, simply type the words or phrases you wish to use as search terms into the Search entry box. There's no need to use punctuation of any kind. After the Natural Language search, Knowledge Kiosk sorts retrieved documents by their relevance to your search request.

Boolean searches consist of a group of search words or phrases linked by special connectors such as and and or that indicate the relationship between the search terms. Examples:

apple and pear	Both words must be present apple or pear	Either word can be present apple w/5 pear	Apple must occur within 5 words, either prior to or following, pear apple not w/5 pear	Apple must not occur within 5 words, either prior to or following, pear apple and not pear	Only apple must be present name contains smith	The field name must contain smith

If you use more than one connector, parentheses should be employed to indicate precisely what you want to search for. For example, apple and pear or orange juice
